

From Rabbi Susan Warshaw:

I have put off writing this, my last newsletter article for TBY, until I realized that although this may be my last newsletter article as your rabbi, it most certainly will not be my last connection with the congregation. I have spent almost my entire career as a rabbi at Temple Bat Yam. Each one of you have become an important part of my life. I have loved being your rabbi. It has been meaningful to represent you in the broader community. It has been my pleasure to officiate at your weddings, Bar and Bat Mitzvot, your baby namings. It has been my honor to accompany you as you mourn the loss of your loved ones. And I have taken great joy in celebrating Shabbat and all the holidays with you.

We have done a lot at TBY in the past ten years. The congregation is stronger and more cohesive than it ever has been. We have added new members and welcomed Friend members. We have joined other URJ congregations in embracing the Mishkan Tefillah prayerbook and the High Holiday prayerbook Mishkan HaNefesh. We have an involved Caring Committee; our Sisterhood and Men's Club are very strong and active.

We have all, literally, put our hand in the “new” Torah scroll which has become such an integral part of our services. We have been involved in class after class after class, always learning and stretching our minds. We have expanded our horizons with trips to Israel and to Amsterdam (and keep tuned for another trip led both by myself and Rabbi Mills in the spring of 2019).

There are so many people to thank for all these years. If I named every name it would fill this whole newsletter. But I want to especially thank my co-service leaders Phyllis Alpern and Cheryl Taustin. They are amazing musicians and colleagues. They have taught me so much. Our work together has been a pleasure from the first day, and there is no way they will know how much their musicianship, their professionalism, their spirituality, and friendship has meant to me.

There is a saying in Judaism “All beginnings are hard.” I add to that, endings are hard too. But I know the congregation will welcome Rabbi Mills with open arms. I know, because I know that this congregation will give her time to become acquainted with you and to learn the culture of the congregation.

I am so very grateful to have been your rabbi. I thank you for allowing me to grow and learn and to be a part of your lives. I pray that Temple Bat Yam will continue to thrive, and that what Judaism teaches will become more and more meaningful to each one of you. As I say every Friday night, Y’va-re-cha-cha Adonai, v’yis-m’recha. May God bless you and keep you. Amen.

President's Letter:

Dear TBY Congregants,

Since our next newsletter issue will not be coming out until after July 1, this is my last President's letter as my term ends June 30. I will be continuing on our Board of Directors as Immediate Past President.

I want to thank all of you for giving me the opportunity to serve TBY in a leadership capacity. I also want to especially thank our officers and trustees for their continuing support and encouragement. As I reflect on the past twenty-two months, I will be leaving the position with many remembrances.

This letter is about us as a congregation: our vibrancy and strength, our many joys and yes many sadnesses; our wonderful team efforts and also singular acts of helping and caring for persons in need both within and outside of our community; an outstanding threesome at the pulpit; opportunities to benefit from the involvement of neighboring Christian clergy; and so much more.

Particular standouts for me include the following: the unselfish and courageous giving of the gift of life by one congregant to another; conducting "in-house," with a modicum of outside assistance, a successful and professional Rabbinical search process; achieving an effective resurgence of the Men's Club while accomplishing a seamless change in Sisterhood leadership; welcoming many new members to our increasingly "interstate" Temple life; and having a number of congregants step up with major volunteer contributions as well as financial support. On a personal note, having the opportunity to have many personal and up close experiences with Rabbi Warshaw has been especially memorable.

I look forward to working with our incoming new Rabbi Mills, our Board, and all of you.

Thanks again.

Ethan Lucas with Bill Lucas and Rabbi Susan at his Bar Mitzvah.

Sisterhood

As always, Sisterhood continues to work to help make our Temple a joyous place to be. April, May and June continue to be busy with Sisterhood activities.

On Saturday April 28th we have the 1920's Speakeasy Casino Night sponsored by the Sisterhood and the Men's Club.

May 6 is Mitzvah Day with many volunteers sorting clothes and making sandwiches for Diakonia.

In June will have a favorite program of ours, Dinner with the Rabbi.

Please join us. And please support your Sisterhood.

Sisterhood Memorial Scholarship Award

March 22, 2018

The Sisterhood of Temple Bay Yam is very proud to award an annual scholarship. We want Jewish children or grandchildren of our Sisterhood to apply, and who will be attending a school of higher learning. In order to keep every applicant on the same footing, we have established the following guidelines:

1. All applicants must be the Jewish child or grandchild of a member of the Sisterhood of Temple Bat Yam.
2. An application form must be completed and returned by the stated date. Applications can be found on the table outside the Social Hall.
3. The essay required on the application form must be written by the applicant and submitted with the applicant's form.
4. The scholarship is to be used for higher education such as college, trade school or summer classes.
5. The scholarship can be awarded no more than twice to any individual applicant.
6. Three judges from the Sisterhood will review the essays. It will be a blind judging; therefore, any identifying words such as names will be removed from the essay before the judges receive the applications to review.

The Sisterhood of Temple Bat Yam encourages you to apply!

Bella Hoffman's Bat Mitzvah

Sidney Eagle Memorial Mens Club

The men's club has been very active these several months. Recently the club conducted a Holocaust Remembrance Day (Yom Hashoah) service as well as the annual Mens Club Shabbot service. The services were lead by Steve Winkler and Steve Cohen. Several members of the club participated in the service by reading passages about Yom HaShoah.

The club also cosponsored with the sisterhood a casino night on April 28, 2018. In the future there is a planned trip to the National Indian Museum in Washington DC.

Also once a month the club members and guests have a dinner followed by a classical movie night at the Clayton Theater.

All are welcome to join the club. There is no fee to join.

Please contact Steve Cohen or Steve Winkler for further information.

Arts and Furnishings Committee: April, 2018 Report

by Bonnie Kaplan, Chairperson

Early spring and it is still cold, but the flowers are peeking through and the cherry blossoms are blooming in Washington, DC. and that makes it official! The Arts and Furnishing Committee of Temple Bat Yam will again meet to discuss placement of newly donated art pieces and any needs for additional furnishings. As you review your pieces of art acquired over the years please keep the Temple in mind for any modern Judaic pieces of our faith that you would like to share with us either on loan or as a gift.

One interesting project we plan to undertake is the restructuring of the tale of our beautiful mosaic glass windows in the Sanctuary. These windows were designed and hand made by our own Temple Bat Yam Artisans. The story has been narrated and on display for many years in the lobby of our building. However, it is difficult to see and read and many members have not noticed it hanging by the door of the Sanctuary which hides it when the doors are open.

The plan is to find a better place to display the narration and accompany it with pictures of the windows during the three years they were in development before installation. Many of TBY members have been unaware of this history until Rabbi Susan Warsaw shared the story and introduced the window's artists to us at the March, 2018, Friday Evening Shabbat Service.

Please remember that the forms for donating or loaning any of your family art may still be obtained from Peggy in the Temple Office. Messages for me or the committee may also be left at the Temple office with Peggy. It is also possible to contact me on my cell phone, if you have any questions about Art donation etc. My cell phone number is 301-633-0613.

The Committee welcomes new ideas and people who have an interest in working on this committee.

Thank you for considering an Art donation for the future.

Purim Potluck Dinner and Service

Our annual Purim Potluck dinner was held on Friday, March 2 sponsored by the Sisterhood and co-chaired by Joan Kessler and Joan Strauss.

As usual, we had a delicious array of food covering all of the food groups (our congregation loves to show off their specialties!). And we had some original, great costumes as pictured in the newsletter.

After our service, we had our traditional Purim cast of characters performing the Megillah (or should we say entertaining) for the congregation. Joan & Joan moderated the costume contest with the congregation voting by their applause, followed by an Oneg with Purim desserts of Hamantaschen and jelly donuts.

We need your HELP! You are our eyes and ears in our community so please contact the Rabbi or me if you know of a need within Temple Bat Yam.

The Caring Committee meets every 3 months. Our

Come Hear What We Have to Say Assistance to Hearing Challenged Congregants

Temple Bat Yam is pleased to announce that we are now equipped to assist hearing challenged congregants to better hear our services with the use of individual blue tooth receivers and ear phones with their own volume controls. There are 8 blue tooth receivers with ear buds and 4 hearing aid compatible units.

These receivers will be available in the Judaica Shop before every service on a first come, first serve basis (sorry, we cannot reserve units in advance).

You will be asked to leave your car keys with Bette Bohlmann in the Judaica Shop in order to take out the unit. The keys will be returned to you when you return the unit to the Judaica Shop at the end of the service. It will be your responsibility to clean the ear buds with alcohol wipes that will be provided. Happy hearing, and we hope this helps you feel more connected to our services!

Please note: Special thanks go to Steve Winkler, George Rosenstock, Steve Martin (Sound Consultant to TBV), and an anonymous donor for making this project a reality.....Paul Schwab

The Chaverim Bakers

by Tiffanie Nichols

On November 9th, a group of baking buddies from TBY got together at Tiffanie Nichols new home for a Challah Bake. It was so successful that they followed up with a Sufganiyot Bake in December and a Bialy Bake in January. Hamantashen were baked in February, and March brought Pesach fun with Matzah Making Maham. The baking class starts with a themed pot luck and is followed by a lesson on the integration of food in the holiday being celebrated, and then an interactive group baking activity.

The most recent pot luck theme was a 'twist' on the classic Seder plate. The roasted egg was represented by roasted egg salad, karpas was cleverly included as members of a very beautifully crafted Israeli salad, a scrumptious Sephardic version of charosis graced the table, marror- the bitter herb was deliciously blended into an arugula/horseradish dressing for gefelte fish (or veggies), and a very spicy Bloody Mary with horseradish ice cubes added an additional bite of 'remembrance'. The shankbone was embodied in lamb kabobs, and fire roasted beets with orange balsamic glaze offered a spot for both the vegetarians and the women (...as it was once said that a woman belongs on the bima as much as an orange belongs on a Seder plate). Chazeret, the second bitter herb, was artfully made from arugula, spinach and kale deep fried and topped with Mediterranean Sea salt.

The baking group originated on the premise of l'dor v'dor רודו רודל, which refers to continuity through the Jewish woman's responsibility to pass on spiritual knowledge and cultural traditions from "generation to generation" to sustain customs and preserve heritage. Many of the ladies in the group became close friends when they went to Israel together as TBY's Chaverah group (meaning 'Friend of a sister-type') in 2016 for their JWRP Momentum adventure. The importance of l'dor vador was instilled in them through "a deep, eternal connection to Israel, a profound kinship with each other, and a heart filled with Jewish values." As a tribute, the group has coined themselves The Chaverim Bakers.

Chaverim – רבבה - Friends n. (plural)

Genetic Testing

by Susanna Eisenman, Caring Committee

Two of my friends recently had one of the popular genetic tests done and received some surprising results. One found he had a half-sibling living in another state and they now plan to meet. They actually had one friend in common who had said more than once that they looked like brothers! My other friend was amused to find he was 1.5% European Jewish (that's a whole other story).

The real reason why I am musing about these tests is that privacy concerns, as with the recent Facebook debacle, may be in the news later for these testing companies. Most of us agree (without reading) to the Terms of Service for all our apps and other things we want. We're almost accustomed to hearing about our accounts being hacked and watching our online transactions more carefully.

Of course, my kids (and most of my friend's kids) are against genetic testing for this very reason. We may think that our genetic information is scrubbed of any identifying markers, but a university researcher found an individual and all his first degree relatives with only his age and his state of residence in under a few hours. So while we may not be affected by the availability of this information, it's possible that our kids or grandkids will be because of a choice we made for ourselves. There are already effects from genetic testing on the state of long term care insurance (the number of providers has gone down and costs will probably rise) and we don't yet know what other areas will be affected. Even with the Genetic Information Nondiscrimination Act of 2008, abuse is possible.

Of course, there is the flip side - your genetic information can contribute to medical research or you can be better prepared for a medical possibility such as breast cancer. But for right now, I'm not getting tested, just perusing birth records and census data for our family history - I don't think I need to know about any half-siblings yet.

LETTERS RECEIVED IN RESPONSE TO A SOLDIER LETTER:

From the family of Dustin Wright:

Temple Bat Yam Sabbath Congregants, Thank you for the letter of November 20, 2017. We really appreciate you advising us of the prayers honoring Dustin. Dustin was a very special person. You all would have been proud to have known him.

Many thanks, Faye & the Wright Family.

From the family of Sergeant First Class Jason Sonnenfeld:

Dear Worshipers, We received your letter announcing that you had honored our son, Sergeant First Class Jason Sonnenfeld, during your Sabbath prayers. Your letter left us inarticulate. Your words and person touch in your signatures comforted us greatly during our family's most tragic event EVER. We are extremely touched knowing that people with warm hearts would take the time to recognize our son for his life's work through his service to God, country. The cemetery where Jason is buried is right next door to our home and is closed for the winter. However, we can trudge through our back yard to visit on foot. Before it closed, we had placed a glass cookie jar at his grave, emulating a sort of mailbox. So far it encloses a Christmas card. During our next visit, we will place your letter there. We know it's silly but necessary for us right now. Thank you and know that we are indeed honored to meet your acquaintances.

Otto & Coleen Sonnenfeld

From the family of BG Steven T. Eveker:

Dear Members of Temple Bat Yam – Thank you for your prayers in honor of BG Steven T. Eveker. We miss him greatly and appreciate the kindness and support you have extended to our family. May God bless you.

From the family of Mark Weaver:

Dear Friends, Thank you for your prayers on behalf of our son and family. Mark was a hero to all of us and a beloved son. He lives on in our memory as a darling little boy. Generous to a fault, he loved serving us in uniform. Shalom,

Tim & Joan Weaver
